OUR OWN COUNTRY.

Certain Split in the Virginia Republican Convention.

AN ANTI-MONOPOLY MOVEMENT IN NEW YORK.

The Skirmishing Fund Increasing—Prosperous Condition of the New York Savings Banks—Large Embezzlement by a Broker's Clerk—Sympathy for Dillon.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

LYNCHBURG, Aug 9—All [illegible] who are here to attend state convention [illegible] Cochran secured one hall and the Mahone republicans anticipating a split [illegible]. It is thought if the straightouts make the [illegible] the coalitionists will retire to their own hall. Mahone partisans have the greatest number of the more influential republicans in the government. All indications favor a split. There is every reason to believe that Wickham's friends will nominate a ticket.

The convention promises to be the most inharmonious ever held in the state. Every county is represented, and there are many contestants. Secretary Brooks, of the state central committee, claims that 13 out of 23 delegates are for coalition. The straightouts are equally confident. There will surely be a division. Two open air meetings were held to-night.

Favorable Condition of Savings Banks.

NEW YORK, Aug 9—The Times prints reports from eight of the 25 savings banks in the city and says they indicate a condition of continuous prosperity, and of uniform soundness. In spite of the general reduction of interest to 4 per cent, the number of depositors has increased during the last six months as in most cases also has the amount on deposit in all the city savings banks. There has been an increase during the half year of ten millions in the amounts deposited. The aggregate amount held by these institutions is about two hundred millions, and this sum is owned by over half million persons showing an average deposit for each of some $400.

Lively day at the Produce Exchange.

NEW YORK, Aug 9—The Commercial says there was a regular bear garden at the produce exchange to-day on account of fluctuations real and imaginary in Chicago. There was almost a panic at one time but the clique held out and sent prices up again. It is conceded by the best grain dealers here that allowing for short crops everywhere the result of the August corner in Chicago will be the highest price on crop August 31st.

Heavy Embezzlement.

NEW YORK, Aug 8—On Saturday morning the firm of J C Walcott & Co, brokers 42 Broad street informed the police that one of the clerks who had been left to close up the business of the day previous had absconded with $40,000 worth of stocks and securities and $15 000 in checks. The absconding clerk is A D Wheelock, aged 25, unmarried and lived on 42d street and Madison avenue. He was left alone in the office in charge of the books and safe. He filled out three checks on the Continental Bank for $3000 each, and got one cashed at the bank, on one of the others he got a letter of credit on the banking house of Brown Bros London and the other on Drexel, Morgan & Co. The letters are available in any part of the world where a first class banking house exists. The firm had been in the habit of leaving three or four signed checks in the safe. The stubs were filled out by persons authorized to sign checks but the rest of the check was left blank to be filled by the clerk in charge. Wheelock filled out these checks to suit his pleasure and after taking $40,000 in securities left for parts unknown. It is supposed he sailed on the out-going steamer which left Saturday. The police ascertain with certainty that Wheelock sailed for Bremen Saturday. Under the treaty between Germany and the United States he cannot be extradited unless the crime can be construed into forgery. It is not known whether he disposed of the letters of credit before leaving the country.

Homicide.

Edward Northrup, a prominent attorney shot and killed Joseph O'Donnell, clerk for a lumber firm in the Crawford house to-day. Northrup had been administrator for the estate of O'Donnell's father. O'Donnell claimed that he was defrauded, and a fight ensued. Northrup surrendered.

A Great Pedestrian Feat.

NEW YORK, Aug 9—At 6 40 to-night William Gale, English pedestrian, finished the great feat of covering 6000 quarter miles in 6000 consecutive ten minutes and continued on the track until he had added additional quarters to his wonderful record. All through from the beginning his condition has been good except once when he took the cramp. The last quarter was made in 2 minutes and [illegible] seconds [illegible] 8 minutes and 13 seconds. At the finish he wanted to bet $500 to $1000 that he could begin and cover 500 miles within 7 days.

"Theo" Allen Married.

The notorious "Theo" Allen was married yesterday to a refined and handsome young girl worth $442,000 and will reform, he says. He was divorced a few weeks ago.

Attempt at Suicide.

OMAHA, Aug 9—Last night Mrs Dearing was discovered by her son hanging in an outhouse. He cut her down and summoned physicians who managed to bring her back to consciousness. When able to speak she declared she wanted to die and refused to take any medicine. To-day, however having changed her mind, she is much better. She was laboring under a temporary attack of insanity and believed her husband had been drowned as he had not returned from bathing in the lake.

Birth on a Train.

Mrs Profit, while on her way east from Oakland California, gave birth to twins on the Union Pacific train yesterday, between North Platte and Grand Island in this state. Dr N. Possti, of Stockton California, who happened to be on the train at the time attended the lady. One of the twins died soon after birth. Mrs Profit, who was accompanied by her brother-in-law, was taken from the train at Grand Island and provided with quarters at the hotel.

An Anti-Monopoly Move.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug 9—Ledger's New York special says the railroad anti-monopolists are determined to make an impression in the fall elections and to that end are about to call a state convention at Utica on or about the 20th of this month. The call is not officially published as yet, but it will be this week. At present it takes the shape of a private and confidential printed circular to which the names of many members of the chamber of commerce and board of trade and transportation are attached. The idea of the prompters of the movement would seem to be that they can muster strength enough to occupy the position of balance of power party in the state and decide which of the candidates of the two great parties shall or shall not be elected.

Probable Suicide.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9.—The dead body of Charles C Richey, signal service employe was found in Eden park this morning with signs of suicide.

Paying Mines—One in a Thousand.

NEW YORK, Aug 8—From Monday's Evening Post: The mining dividends paid by the gold, silver and copper mines of the United States during the last six months amounted to $6,244,356 which is $40,3[illegible] less than was paid the year previous. Since January 1st only forty mines have paid dividends. It is safe to say that over 40,000 mines are now being worked in this country and that therefore one in a thousand pays. The states containing the mines distributing these dividends are as follows: California, $975,000; Nevada, $791,270; Utah, $375,000; Arizona, $900,000; Dakota, $540 000; Colorado, $9[illegible]; Montana, $340,000; Michigan, $1,410,000; Georgia, $6000. Michigan takes the lead with Calumet and Hecla copper mines, California follows with the Standard gold mines and in Nevada the principal mines are Eureka and Richmond and in Arizona Contention and Silver King are the chief producers. It is reported that the litigation over the Robinson consolidated mine of Colorado has been settled.

Californians in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug 8—The following Californians are at the principal hotels: C T Sanders, H W Hale, W E Ballard and wife, I H Bostwick and wife [illegible].

Complicated Nuptials.

NEW YORK, Aug 8—There was filed to-day with the register of vital statistics in Brooklyn the record of the marriage of Ella C Elkington with Charles C Wells which was performed by Assistant Pastor Halliday, of Plymouth church at the Mansion house. The bride is the niece of [illegible] and formerly wife of Capt. Frank Elkington who obtained a divorce from Elkington and married [illegible] this out the captain had the judgment set aside. He then caused the marriage between herself and Wells to be annulled and a decision being rendered in her favor she remarried Wells.

The Sprague Property Attached.

[illegible] Lippitt Snow and others obtained an attachment against property held by Zachariah Chaffee as trustee of the estate of the A & W Sprague Manufacturing Company for merchandise sold and delivered.

Chicago Mortality.

CHICAGO, Aug 8—Last week's deaths in this city numbered those of any previous week. The [illegible] was 37 the rate was [illegible] per thousand, as against the nominal rate of 14. The highest rate ever reached before was [illegible] the [illegible] week 334 people died and the same week last [illegible]. The intense heat was the [illegible].

The Irish Convention.

CHICAGO, Aug 9—The Irish convention acquitted Secretary West of the charges made by Keegan and denounced the latter as a falsifier. The real work of the convention will begin to-morrow. Capt John Geary, one of General Lee's staff, Col D O Sullivan, a republican politician of Little Rock, and Dr. Dennis Dowling Mulcahy, of Newark, are expected to join in the labors of the convention. The president of the meeting to-day positively stated that it was not held in the interest of the dynamite system nor did it countenance that crowd. It is alleged that P W Crowe intends to bring libel suits against two Chicago daily papers for saying he had been in the penitentiary.

The Irishmen's convention was reinforced this morning by Mayor Smith of Denver and P J Sullivan of San Francisco. Each of them is said to have subscribed $5000 to the general fund. The ancient order of Hibernians, who have refused to come into the convention say their refusal is due to the fact that the gathering does not receive the sanction of the Roman Catholic church and is essentially a secret society.

Carpenters and Joiners in Council.

The national carpenters' and joiners convention met here to-day. Wm. Black, of Chicago, welcomed the delegates who number 170, and represent every part of the country. Mr Black said the working men had no protection from legislation, and it was time to combine against the tyranny of monopolists and plan a strong organization to maintain their rights.

Socialists ask that Hartmann be Protected.

BROOKLYN, Aug 9—The socialists mass meeting to-night protested against the extradition of Leo Hartmann, such course they believe having been contemplated by the authorities. They adopted resolutions to the effect that it would be a disgrace to our country and an insult to the memory of the founders of the republic if the government should deliver up the revolutionary hero to certain death, while he found refuge as a political exile even in a British monarchy. The secretary was instructed to inquire of Secretary Blaine about the matter.

Dillon's Release.

LAWRENCE, Mass, Aug 9—The release of John Dillon was celebrated this evening by a mass meeting in the commons. Speeches were made by ex Congressman John Tarbox, Patrick Melody and John Welch.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9—A congratulatory cablegram was sent to Dillon.

Orville Grant's Funeral.

NEW YORK, Aug 9—The funeral services of Orville Grant were held yesterday at Elizabeth, N J. The discourse was brief. The only reference to the deceased man was when the speaker referred to the sublimity of the human mind and the incalculable loss incurred by one who was deprived of the full control of his mental powers. Among the relatives present were General Grant, his mother, Mrs Hannah Grant, Col Grant and Mrs Abel Corbin.

John Walter Coming to America.

NEW YORK, Aug 9—Besides the duke of Argyle and Earl of Airlie and his son, Lord Ogilvy, who will visit the United States this month John Walter proprietor of the London Times will shortly come staying until October. After visiting Long Branch and Newport he will go to California. All accounts represent that the number of English visitors to this country next fall will be very large. The earl of Dunraven expects to make a tour of this continent and hundreds of others of less note.

King Kalakua Interviewed.

The Herald's London correspondent interviewed King Kalakua. He was feted, dined and wined by the aristocracy to an extent that would have tired out a less powerful man. He said that there was no foundation for the report that he was desirous of disposing of his kingdom. He expects to be in New York next month. Regarding the Chinese question the king favors their immigration, and says he does not share the views of his ministry on the subject.

Fired by an Infernal Machine.

PROVIDENCE, R I, Aug 9—The residence of Dr Wm Bowen, of Scituate, was burned last night together with his barn. An infernal machine operated by clock work was found in the ruins of the barn. Doubtless the same diabolism was used on the house. Dr Bowen had been very active in enforcing the law against liquor-selling, and has suffered before.

Another Railroad War.

CHICAGO, Aug 9—Another passenger war has broken out between the Wabash and the Alton roads and it may become general and disastrous. The fare from Kansas City to Boston is now $10 but to New York $22 50.

Half Fare.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug 9—Rates to New York are now $10—half the usual fare.

Captured.

WHITEHALL, N Y, Aug 9—Parker, the villainous Adirondack guide, was captured Saturday on Long Lake, but the constable had first to shoot him. His recovery is doubtful.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

WASHINGTON, Aug [illegible]—[illegible] the department [illegible] The Russian wheat [illegible] large [illegible] promises [illegible] stated that in the [illegible] Odessa the yield [illegible] ers think they will [illegible] with [illegible] shows the [illegible] harvest in southern Russia will be the largest they have had for [illegible] years. Harvest in [illegible] excellent quality. In [illegible] grain is already cut. Further north it is still subject to damage [illegible] bad weather. From Moscow, which is the great commercial center of Russia, it is reported that all branches of business are beginning to revive and flourish after a long season of depression, solely on account of the prospects of an abundant harvest. It will not be without practical political influence also, for much discontent in the interior has resulted from hard times and short crops.

Davitt and Bradlaugh.

LONDON, Aug 9—Davitt writes that his confinement being in a good climate agrees with his health, only desiring the newspapers and some one to talk to. Bradlaugh is reported worse to-day from the effects of his scrimmage. His arm and head are said to be much inflamed.

In the House of Commons.

Henry Labouchere (liberal) asked what were the government's intentions as regards Bradlaugh. Gladstone replied the government understood a resolution preventing Bradlaugh from taking the oath expired with the present session and Bradlaugh could consequently present himself at the next session and ask to have the oath administered to him. Meanwhile the government would consider the matter.

In consequence of Gladstone's answer Labouchere announced he would not proceed with the resolutions enabling Bradlaugh to take the oath in spite of the resolutions against him.

Ashley, parliamentary secretary to the board of trade, in reply to a question as to the progress of the negotiations for a consular convention with the United States said the board of trade had taken the initial step by asking the foreign office to move in the matter.

The Land Bill.

The Daily News says: We have reason to believe that the government will advise the commons to disagree with all important amendments to the land bill in the house of lords excepting only a few which do not affect the principles of the measure. It is not believed that the lords will stand out against the action of the commons in rehabilitating the bill.

Home Rule Members returned to London.

In compliance with the urgent request of Parnell, many home rule members of parliament returned to London, to be present when the amendments of the house of lords land bill will be considered.

Dillon's Movements.

DUBLIN, Aug 9—John Dillon appears to be in usual health. The government had not intimated the release which was a surprise both to Dillon and the land league. It is expected he will make his appearance at a meeting of the league to-morrow and then proceed to London and resume his seat in parliament to participate in the final discussion of the land bill.

DUBLIN, Aug 9—It is stated that John Dillon does not intend to actively participate in politics for some time. He has received telegrams from all parts of the country congratulating him upon his release. He has not visited the land league offices since he regained his liberty.

The Land League Preparing to Defend.

DUBLIN, Aug 9—Preparations are progressing to deal with the new state of things caused by the passage of the land bill. The land league and [illegible] committee will carefully test and defend the cases of struggling landlords who could not afford an appeal. These will probably be first attacked and their cases will be fully defended so as to prevent precedents being made.

Shot.

A man named Conboy was probably fatally shot yesterday at Olsen county Leitrim [illegible] he tried to obtain a farm from which a tenant had been evicted.

The Consular Convention.

LONDON, Aug 9—With reference to Ashley's reply in the house of commons last night in regard to the proposed consular convention between the United States and Great Britain it is announced that Thomas Gray, assistant secretary of the board of trade will visit America shortly with the object of conducting negotiations.

Bradlaugh.

LONDON, Aug 9—Bradlaugh will not proceed with his summons against the police.

Bradlaugh probably allowed to take the Oath.

There is reason to believe that Bradlaugh will demand to be allowed to take the oath in the usual way at the next session of parliament and if objection is raised the government will propose a resolution declaring that he be allowed to take the oath. If this resolution is defeated a bill will be introduced altering the parliamentary oath act.

Looking towards Leniency.

There is undoubtedly a disposition on the part of the government to drop the powers derived under the coercion act if possible. It is understood that the subject was mooted at Saturday's cabinet council. A suggestion was made to the government that if after the passage of the land bill there should appear reasonable prospect of a restoration to tranquility, prisoners arrested under the coercion act should be liberated each after six months imprisonment, from the date of arrest.

Against Special Legislation.

LONDON, Aug 9—Many conservatives and liberals in the house of lords and commons signed memorial to Gladstone urging him not to propose any special legislation in behalf of Bradlaugh.

Disastrous Collision.

An express train from Manchester came in collision to-day near Blackburn with the Liverpool and York express. Many people were fearfully injured, several believed to be fatally. There was great destruction of property.

LATER—Five persons were killed and 25 severely injured many of whom are not expected to survive.

Cause of Detention.

The Kreuz Zeitung learns from undoubted authority that the steamers Dykeros and Socrates are detained because of information lodged at the foreign office. They were possibly intended for hostilities against Chili.

Failure.

Robert Hunt, colliery proprietor of Cheadle, Staffordshire has failed. Liabilities estimated at seventy thousand pounds.

The Westminster Deanery.

It is stated that the deanery of Westminster has been offered to Rev. Henry Montagu Butler, head master of Harrow school, who will probably accept.

Declined to make Conditions.

Indirect overtures were made to John Dillon, who should be released on condition of quitting Ireland or elsewhere which were firmly rejected by him. He also positively declined to make any conditions upon his release.

Fire.

BERLIN, Aug 9—Four hundred houses were burned yesterday [illegible] the extent of half a million marks.

Explosion.

PARIS, Aug 9—Eleven artillerymen were injured, four very severely by an explosion in the [illegible] cartridge in [illegible].

A Boy!

[illegible] Aug 9—[illegible] daughter of Dom Pedro II emperor of Brazil at present staying in this city has been delivered of a son.

About 800 miners are on the ground near Oro Dell.

A little daughter of A C Stockam of Wallowa valley wandered away from a party with whom she was gathering berries recently and was lost in the woods for five hours. She was almost exhausted with running, calling, and crying, but was fortunately found just at dark.

Union County Record: While riding in the valley this week we were greatly impressed with the extent of our hay and grain fields. Large fields of ripening grain are to be seen on every hand which promise a large yield. A very heavy crop was produced on the farm of S B Booth who has one of the largest hay ranches in Union county, consisting of 720 acres of fine hay land. Large numbers of men are engaged in saving it, and the farmer informed us that he would probably put up 400 tons of excellent hay.

Sentinel: The so called Dead Indian road from Ashland to Fort Klamath is between 40 and 50 miles shorter than that by way of Soda Springs and Linkville and is a much better road. Last fall a number of the reservation Indians who took this route to come into the valley to do their trading burned it of the fallen timber, etc, that had obstructed it the past few years. Since that time the road has been traveled extensively by people going from Jacksonville to the upper Klamath basin. The road leads through Lost Prairie cutting that body of land right in two leaving Lake of the Woods at the foot of snowy Mount Pitt to the left and striking Pelican Bay at the head of Lake Klamath. It is the nearest route to the fort and Crater Lake.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug 9, 8 A M—[illegible]

Noon Bulletins.

1:30 P M—At the dressing of the president's wound this morning it was found that the pus had been discharging spontaneously and freely through the counter opening made yesterday. He has been quite comfortable this morning, and has taken a fair supply of liquid nourishment. His pulse is now 104, temperature [illegible], respiration [illegible]. [illegible] will be better to-morrow. [illegible] the patient's symptoms are according to Dr Agnew's [illegible] last night.

6 P M—The president has been very easy during the day and has continued to take the prescribed nourishment and without gastric disturbance. The discharge of pus from his wound is quite abundant and it is evident that a thorough drainage has been secured by yesterday's operation. The degree of fever this afternoon differs little from that of yesterday: pulse 105 temperature 101 4 respiration 19.

D W BLISS and others.

The 10 o'clock Report

10 P M—This evening the president's temperature and respiration were higher than during any day since the relapse of two weeks ago. This however the doctors attribute to the irritation of yesterday. Dr Agnew told Secretary Blaine last night that during to-morrow he looked for a high pulse and temperature. To-morrow is expected a marked improvement in the president's condition. He has fallen in his improvement as evinced by the fact that he left at [illegible] this afternoon [illegible]. Throughout the city to-day there was considerable apprehension and a feeling that the doctors were concealing some of the worst features of the case. Dr Reyburn said this was not true. They expressed the whole case without reserve. The president had a peaceful sleep this afternoon, and it is believed there will be no further use of the knife. The higher pulse and temperature to-day was due entirely to the operation and the president may not rally till Thursday but all agree he will rally. At 10 to-night the president was sleeping, and the surgeons were satisfied. The parts of the new incision are very sore, causing irritation and fever as it would in a well man. He has fallen off a good deal but probably lost all he will. No morphia was given to-night.

Secretary Blaine and family leave to-night for six weeks, the physicians telling him that it was perfectly safe to leave the president. He goes to Augusta, Maine and then to a watering place.

The Latest.

Midnight—The president [illegible]

[illegible] began to abate as it did last night and at this hour the pulse is below 100. The temperature has correspondingly decreased. As the patient has slept most of the evening, it is not possible to hold the thermometer under his arm for a minute without seriously disturbing him. The exact temperature has not been taken since 7 o'clock but it is thought below 100. It is five days since the last hypodermic injection of morphia was given, but the patient seems to have no difficulty in getting a good night's rest without it. He is now sleeping soundly and will have a better night, the surgeons think, than last night. Drs Bliss and Reyburn both report him doing extremely well and decided that a change for the better will be apparent as soon as the irritation caused by the new incision subsides.

Blaine to Lowell.

[illegible] P M—Physicians give encouraging reports of the president's condition. Pulse and temperature are slightly diminished since morning. Pus flowing freely and his appetite is improved. He has been able to sleep with comfort lying on his wounded side.

Blaine's 11 P M. Dispatch to Lowell.

At 11 to-night the condition of the president is satisfactory. He sleeps well without the aid of anodynes. It is now the sixth day since he took any morphia. His pulse and temperature did not rise so high from the effect of yesterday's operation as the surgeons expected. The situation is one of continued anxiety but also of cheerful hope.

Physicians Confident.

NEW YORK, Aug [illegible]—The Times' Washington correspondent had interviews with Drs Hamilton and [illegible]. Swayne said the president's condition [illegible] operation yesterday and all are satisfied with the condition of things and expressed themselves that the patient will recover. Dr Hamilton [illegible] saying if he had any doubt about it he would not leave for his home.

DISASTROUS FLOOD

A Rain Cloud bursts near Central City and plays Havoc with the Town.

DENVER, Col, Aug [illegible]—A Central City special says: The most destructive flood in the history of the city occurred this morning. At half past ten a heavy storm cloud appeared accompanied by almost incessant thunder and lightning. About four minutes later the citizens were startled by [illegible] roar to the west and almost instantaneously a solid wave of water between four and five feet high came rushing down Nevada and Eureka streets taking everybody by surprise. Heavy quartz teams standing in the streets were overturned and carried down stream like feathers. Rocks weighing five and six hundred pounds were rolled along the streets like pebbles. Animals and everything in the track of the flood were swept away. In an incredibly short time the streets were cleared of people, every body seeking shelter. During the flood large masses of debris were carried through the streets at the rate of about fifteen miles an hour. The whole length of the gulches from Nevadaville on one side and the head of Eureka on the other presents to sight the most desolate scene imaginable. The roadway is entirely destroyed in places, the ruts being five and six feet deep and extending for hundreds of yards, the entire length for about three miles is strewn with debris of every kind. At several points between Central and Black Hawk the debris is piled 25 feet high. Eureka street for a quarter of a mile is one mass of rocks and rubbish. On Main street four feet of sand is deposited. The flood was caused by a bursting rain cloud a little west of the city. The natural channel of the stream became dammed turning the water into the streets. The only loss of life known at present is that of Joe Gerrick, whose body was found in Black Hawk. The flood lasted but 20 minutes, but the damage is estimated at about $50 000, $20 000 of which is sustained by the highways. A number of small houses were upset and washed away and many residences and stores flooded and mud and sand deposited on the floors and in the cellars to a depth of several feet.

Advices from Idaho Springs says the storm was the severest ever felt, several houses in Virginia canyon were carried away and a six year old girl drowned. Nearly all the railroad and county bridges between the forks of the creek and Idaho were swept away. Nearly all the houses in the business portion of the town were flooded and the streets damaged. The damage in Idaho will amount to $20 000. It is estimated that it will take 100 men 48 hours to repair the damage to the railroad track between Idaho and Floyd hill. No trains are expected to depart or arrive in Central City, until late to-morrow. Indications point to a stormy night.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Denver has six millionaire widows, and now that fares are low Mr. Tilden may be expected along any day.

This is indeed a notable year. Ben Butler has announced that he will not be a candidate for governor of Massachusetts.

New Hampshire proposes to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Daniel Webster which occurs on the 18th of next January.

Mr Allis, the greenback candidate for governor of Wisconsin, says he does not want the office. Mr. Allis evidently does not know what luck he is in when he feels that way.

The Atlanta Constitution says the mountain districts of Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina and Tennessee are full of people who, for one purpose or another have become Mormons.

John Russell Young tells Gath that Gen Grant's income is about $50 000 a year from his son's firm in which Grant is a silent partner, from his railroad positions, his own investments, and the Grant fund.

Jay Gould's fortune is put in a careful review of his enterprises by a New York weekly at $75 000 000—a large part market value on which no one could hope to realize but nevertheless a foundation for credit to this amount.

The active operations in Northern Pacific stocks is said to be due to Keene and others, who are frantically endeavoring to cover their shorts. The Villard party make no sacrifices, holding to their shares throughout the depression.

Sarah Bernhardt tells Olive Logan that she has $100 000 invested in securities, $30,000 in works of art and $50,000 worth of jewels. Virtue, as is well known, is its own reward, but stocks, bonds and diamonds are not unacceptable.

Month after month are we humiliated, the Montreal Star says, by seeing the great tide of emigration to this continent rushing upon the shores of the United States while Canada has but the ebb of her own native born rushing in the same direction.

A Pennsylvania millionaire has written to President Garfield's friend Gov. Foster of Ohio saying that he would like to give Mrs. Garfield $100 000 for her support in case the president dies. He does not know exactly how to go about it, and so asks the governor's advice.

One of the curious features of the New Ulm cyclone, says the Omaha Herald, was that it concentrated its more destructive efforts on brick instead of wooden buildings. It would pass frame buildings of light build and pulverize solid brick blocks which were located near them.

When General Greene retreated after the battle of Guilford Courthouse, he stopped temporarily near Cascade, Pittsylvania county, Va., establishing a hospital there. A few days ago a graveyard containing the bones of many soldiers of the revolution was discovered on the Dan near Cascade.

Levi Mills temperance nominee for attorney-general of Ohio has declined in favor of Mr Nash the republican candidate, because, he says Nash is a sound temperance man in sentiment, a total abstainer in his habits, and in every sense worthy the suffrages of the temperance people of the state.

The present Duke of Wellington has drawn a pension of $20 000 a year since the death of his father in 1852. He has also $160 000 a year from estates given to his father by the government and the interest on $3,500 000 voted to the great duke by the English parliament after the battle of Waterloo. The present duke is 74 years old.

Bismarck habitually reads a chapter of the new testament at bedtime. Like Ben Butler, George M Stearns and other eminent speakers he finds the bible useful at times as when he pronounced England in a decline in 1864. "While we have been building arsenals, England has been building factories," he said, and after a pause—"thus ought ye to have done and not to have left the other undone."

WRINKLED FACES.

It is a painful sight to see young ladies in their teens with wrinkled and prematurely old faces. Nevertheless it is quite common, and to any one who observes the tendency of the times the reason is very apparent. Owing to flaming advertisements and bogus certificates in which are used the names of eminent physicians and chemists, the unsuspecting and credulous have been induced to use some of the so called liquid beautifiers all of which are known to be positively injurious and if used for any length of time will destroy the complexion so that it will be next to impossible to restore it. Mothers should be very careful to see that their daughters do not use this preparation but ask for and obtain Slaven's Harmless Yosemite Face Powder, the only harmless beautifier. [illegible] MORNING [illegible]

[illegible] marked success [illegible] an eastern commercial journal [illegible] before we venture to remark that English, French and Russian leather [illegible] the market against American by its superiority, and that its superiority depends chiefly on the fact that more time is allowed for tanning. If leather is to be of the best quality the hides must remain a certain considerable length of time in the vats. But American tanners are impatient of this delay and put the half prepared material on the market, which is worked up into goods that last half as long as those made of the best foreign leather. This is a type of the entire American habit. We are perhaps both from constitution and [illegible] an impatient and fast people. We must have a brighter light, and so burn out rapidly. Intenseness is developed at the sacrifice of other qualities. This quality of intensity or of absorption in the business in hand, is a very powerful one; and has helped to make the Americans upon a sudden a very powerful people; but intensity can only characterize a people for a long time at a cost of much friction, vital loss and much exhaustion. A man is so thoroughly immersed in his business that he can not spare the time to eat his meals with any approach to leisure, or to discharge his duties to his family or to society. Admit that this course may help him to amass a fortune—but at what cost is it gained? His digestion is ruined, his temper is spoiled, his children grow up estranged from him, he is unfitted for social pleasures, and when he would be glad to enjoy the money which he has acquired with so much pains, he finds himself unable to do so. He is unfit for enjoyment from his physical condition, his mental habits, and the general "set" of his life. He has lived fast in a certain line, has run himself off his legs, is fit for nothing but to be taken care of,—and his peevishness unfits him for that. "They lose the world," says the greatest of poets, he who always points his observations so as to cause them to be remembered, "they lose the world who buy it with much care." In education we see the same impatience. "Short cuts" are eagerly sought; the course of study is briefed; helps to learning of every charlatan character abound; the best books are shortened, summarized and issued in ten-cent editions and of course eviscerated and completely spoiled; and the student rushes or is rushed through academy and college as if he were running a race, instead of preparing to discharge the duties of life. In politics the same baneful haste is manifest. Legislation is hurried, and therefore is ill-digested and imperfect. Short terms in office are all the rage. By the time a man is well-seated in a position and has become fully acquainted with his duties in it he is shoved aside and another seated in his place. There is a rush more or less all the time, the utmost intemperance is shown about temperance itself; the greatest impatience and irritation are displayed in support of fogyism, and men who profess to be scientists and advanced thinkers seem disposed to fly rather than to walk soberly. Our European friends look upon this mass of fretting workers with a surprise mingled with both admiration and disapproval. They wonder at the swift work and quick results, and deplore the wrecks, the confusion, the want of happiness, which are the effects of this palpitating haste and eager intensity. The American is so absorbed in business that he has no time for recreation, or if he forces himself to take it tries to infuse the same vim into the pleasure, and so makes it a labor and a pain. This haste, this ambition to dispatch matters in a swift style, is found to color nearly all the minor habits of life. Americans rush at everything, —or else they lie supinely at their ease and do nothing. The country is full of fast men, fast women, fast boys and fast girls, who prefer the smartness of hurried dispatch to sensible and methodic performance of duty. There is no one whose connection with the working world brings him into daily experience with popular habits who is not forced to confess that his soul is tried continually by this crude, fussy, hasty and impatient character of our people. Haste, unnecessary and senseless haste, shows itself at all times, among all classes, and in all places. We will not even sit in our churches through a religious service of reasonable length; and hence we require the clergyman, like him described in Cowper's poem, to huddle up his work in just fifteen minutes, and close the scene with a hurried whisper. But censure of our habit of haste is useless; for, like the good and easy Horace of old, though we all see and approve the better, we shall doubtless continue to follow the worse, way.

FOREST PRESERVATION.

Probably the most considerable destruction of timber that takes place with us is caused by forest fires. But as the country fills with population we shall enact here again what our ancestors did in the older states,—that is, we shall destroy the timber where it is superabundant, simply to get rid of it, and our descendants a generation or two hence will wonder how we could have been so unwise. East of the Cascade range timber is wanted, and efforts are being made to cause it to grow. In most places west of the same range there is too much timber, and the problem is how to get it out of the way. In California the slopes of the Sierras, once covered with timber, have already been denuded, with bad consequences which the press of the state frequently points out. At no very distant day the subject will become one of importance here also—though the worst effects of stripping a country of its timber do not appear for a long series of years after the fact. One of the most curious and interesting things in the physical history of the globe is found through study of the ways in which climate, soil, commerce, and even the ethnology, of large portions of the earth have been modified by human agency, in which destruction of forests has borne a prominent part. The long sweep of history furnishes striking instances of decay and death in countries where the native forests have been extirpated. From Bokhara to Gibraltar the progress for many centuries has been toward the total disappearance of organic life. Two centuries after the birth of Christ, and after the hordes of Persia and Arabia and the legions of Rome had ravaged Assyria and the central provinces of Asia Minor, that extensive region still contained forty five cities that had a population of more than a hundred thousand each, and the total number of inhabitants was estimated from fifty-five millions to twice that number, certainly exceeding the present population of the North American continent. The Grecian settlements occupied only a narrow strip along the western coast, but they were more populous than the entire Asiatic empire of Turkey in its present extent. Mesopotamia sustained more human beings to the square mile than the south of modern England [illegible] districts of [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] that agreement of the people [illegible] the great west, nurseries, societies, [illegible] farmers' associations [illegible] the work of tree culture, [illegible] and celebrate the return of spring by grove festivals, [illegible] that every landed proprietor see that the boundaries of his estate and the unoccupied roads between the subdivisions be set with shade trees and which fail to supplant with quickset hedges, and fifth, that fruit trees be planted wherever there is a piece of ground not otherwise occupied nor absolutely barren. These are the suggestions of one who appears to have reflected deeply on the subject, and who desires to impress his countrymen with a proper idea of what they must set about doing if they would render the last continent discovered habitable for the population that awaits the support it is capable of giving them.

Sympathizers with nihilism in our eastern cities are full of concern, so the telegraphic reports say, lest Leo Hartmann, the well-known nihilist conspirator, recently arrived in this country from Europe, may be sent back under the extradition laws; and they are going to communicate with Secretary Blaine on the subject. It is said that he has come over to America for the purpose of advancing the interests of the order to which he belongs, believing that he can do more for it here than by remaining in Europe. Gentlemen of his class are not regarded, on the whole, as very desirable additions to our population. Since arriving in our country he has been "interviewed," of course. His deliverances contain a plausible and entertaining plea for his cause, but nevertheless plainly show the relentless, desperate and unscrupulous spirit by which nihilism is animated. He asserts that the main body of the Russian people sympathize warmly with the revolutionary agitators, and claims that the order has been steadily increasing with each aggravation of the restrictive measures adopted by the government. He says that every man who becomes a nihilist transfers all he possesses to the order, and in this manner a large stock of money is provided for the purpose of carrying on vigorous operations. He confirms the report that nihilistic agents are frequently to be found in the military, naval and civil service, and he says that, in addition to the men who obtain official positions for the purpose of furthering the aims of this terrible and remorseless organization, a number of government employes gradually become imbued with revolutionary sentiments, and earnestly co-operate in their advancement. Hartmann cherishes hopes of creating sympathy for himself and associates in this country, and it is painful to note that these hopes are partially based upon the extraordinary speech of Wendell Phillips, in which nihilism is extravagantly eulogized.

Quite a number of Catholics of this city have taken occasion to assure us during the past two or three days that the non-attendance of the children of Catholic parents at the public schools is by no means so general as we have stated. They assure us further that they send their own children to the public schools in preference to any other schools and that a large majority of the Catholic parents of the city do likewise. They say also that there is little objection to the public schools among the Catholic laity throughout the United States; that even the clergy is by no means a unit in opposition to the schools, and that Catholics generally, as other classes of citizens, are independent enough to hold their own views and do as they think fit on the subject. They tell us moreover that because an imprudent priest here and there speaks out against the public schools no one should imagine therefore that his voice carries authority, or even any considerable influence. Also, that as American citizens, as fathers desiring the education of their children, they are a firm supporter of the public school system. It seems from these statements that our remark that "few Catholic parents permit their children to attend the public schools," was put too broadly.

The Atlanta (Ga.), Constitution utters a sentiment which may be commended to the Bourbon democratic press of the northern states. It says: "All the rights enjoyed by the people of Massachusetts are to-day enjoyed by the people of Georgia. For our part, we ask no more—except, perhaps, that the discussion of state rights may be transferred from the south to New England." Of that discussion the south manifestly has had enough.

A report comes that Russia has a large and full wheat crop. It promises, indeed, to be as large as ever harvested in that country. This comes from the minister of the United States in Russia, and its authenticity may therefore be depended on. Reports from other countries of Europe indicate on the whole a fair crop, and the probabilities are that rather less wheat will be required from America for the coming year than during the last.

Republicans of Virginia will hold their state convention to-day. Great efforts are being made by Mahone and his crowd to capture it and commit the republicans of the state to support the "readjusters."

ONE PRICE To All! ONE PRICE To All!

FACTS THAT ARE UNDENIABLE.

"TO THE VICTOR BELONGS THE SPOILS"

Such is the cry of UNSCRUPULOUS firms, who, in their endeavor to impose upon the credulity of the public, resort to illegitimate means to dispose of their wares. As an illustration, we quote from their advertisements a few of the many devices practiced by them, to-wit: "DOLLAR ARTICLES FOR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, ROOM WANTED," and what is still more suggestive, EVASIVE LOTTERY SCHEMES, etc.

Influenced, as we are, by the legitimate principles of a square-dealing house, we deem it incumbent upon us to warn the public against the nefarious practices of the GRABBERS. And although it is neither our wish or desire to dictate to them HOW their business SHOULD be conducted, we do object to their sailing under FALSE COLORS. We would call the attention of the public to the glaring advertisements, in which a firm alleging to sell goods at ONE PRICE (!), marks an article one day at $6 50, and the next day at $2 00, and perhaps to-morrow the article may be worth $3 00, in that ONE PRICE (?) establishment. The persons who purchase the article at $6 50 and note the same article advertised on the following day at $2 00, cannot but feel that they have been the victims of imposition and misplaced confidence.

Such procedure surely has not the tendency to win public appreciation or an increase of trade, but manifestly demonstrates the fact that their business IS UNDOUBTEDLY conducted on the "SPOILS SYSTEM;" YOUR MONEY, WITHOUT VALUATION THEREFOR.

Such inconsistencies are against all force of reason.

WE, do NOT propose to give excessive valuation of a dollar invested with us, but a DOLLAR'S VALUE OF A DOLLAR'S INVESTMENT, ONE PRICE and EQUALITY OF TREATMENT IS EXTENDED TO ALL, REGARDLESS OF STATION. These are the doctrines by which our business has been governed since our advent as a Portland business firm, and which have won the well-merited support and patronage of the people of the Pacific coast.

What We Are Doing.

[illegible]

A LONG ABSENCE.—Mr. [illegible] Burke, [illegible] New Mexico, arrived in this city [illegible] ago and is sojourning [illegible] McMahon, the [illegible] About [illegible] years ago Mr. Burke [illegible] Lee, Mass., and [illegible] became interested in mines [illegible] never visited his home [illegible] people. Failing to hear [illegible] up for dead. [illegible] Mr. Burke ascertained [illegible] an infant when he left home, was living in Portland [illegible] he came up on a short visit. He has large mining interests in New Mexico and will leave for his home to-morrow on the steamer. As soon as he can arrange his business affairs, Mr. Burke [illegible] visit his old home [illegible] steady habits, after an absence of a quarter of a century.

SURVEY.—The St. Helens [illegible] says that the N. P. R. R. surveyors are ordered to make [illegible] examinations of routes; one from Spechts, at the mouth of Tide creek, crossing the creek and intersecting the county road about 100 yards south of Seffert's gate. The other from Enterprise landing, along the preliminary line to the same point. The party say the road is sure to be built on this side, and that work will commence as soon as they can locate back of Portland, which they are doing now. The company is engaged at present in moving headquarters back to Kalama, we presume preparatory to beginning work on the Portland road.

WHEAT CROP.—From Col. I. R. Moores, land agent for the Oregon & California Railroad Company, we get some interesting facts relating to the wheat crops of the present season. Grain is better filled than it has been for several years. Hence the yield per acre in Western Oregon will be better than it has been for some time hitherto. The season has been such that the heads of grain are well filled. This may seem to some as a matter of small importance, but it means thousands of dollars when it is correctly estimated.

THE OPPOSITION.—Capt. U. B. Scott, of the steamer Fleetwood, on being interviewed yesterday in relation to the withdrawal of the opposition between Portland and The Dalles, stated to a reporter that he knew nothing of the permanent laying up of the boats. The little steamer Goldfinch, which met with an accident last Saturday, is undergoing repairs at The Dalles, and the Fleetwood has been temporarily laid up here.

LIEUT. SCHWATKA'S LECTURE.—Reed's Opera House at Salem was crowded to its fullest capacity on Monday evening last on the occasion of Lieut. Schwatka's lecture on his Arctic expedition, and for an hour or more he kept his hearers deeply interested in his glowing and lifelike pictures of life in the frozen regions. He is a pleasant speaker, and his lectures are highly instructive and entertaining.

MURPHY'S BONDS.—Justice Bushwiler, before whom John Murphy was brought on a charge of making a murderous assault on W. H. Williams, has fixed the bonds at $1000. In default of bail Murphy was committed to await the action of the grand jury. Mr. Williams' injuries are not as serious as at first feared. He is able to sit up and is pronounced beyond danger by the attending physician.

NOT AGROUND.—The report which has been published in a morning contemporary to the effect that the British bark Vancouver was aground at St. Helens, is not correct. The bark was drawing 2? feet while coming up from Astoria. On reaching Postoffice bar the vessel anchored several times in order to avail of high tide. The Vancouver arrived at this port at 9 o'clock Monday evening.

FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late E. M. Bearden took place yesterday afternoon. The following members of the police force acted as pall-bearers: Captain Jos. Sloan, Captain Chas. Gritzmacher, Jas. A. Mott, H. M. Hudson, A. E. Brannan and Phil Saunders. The body was conveyed to Lone Fir cemetery, followed by a number of friends of deceased, and there laid to rest.

LEG BROKEN.—A few days ago a son of Mr. John Barnell, who owns a woodyard on the Columbia river at what is known as Bunker Hill landing, was thrown from a wagon and had a leg badly fractured. He was brought up to the city and taken to St. Vincent hospital. The fractured limb is getting along very well, and the patient will soon be out.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.—Notice is given in another column that the board of equalization of this county will meet on the 29th of August for the purpose of publicly examining the assessment roll and to correct all errors in valuation. Parties interested should bear this in mind, and not fail to appear at the time and place mentioned.

GOSPEL MEETING.—The regular gospel meeting will be held at Y. M. C. A. hall. All are invited to attend, take part and form acquaintances. Particular attention will be given to young men and strangers—who, however, should not forget to put themselves in the way of being found out.

IN THE COUNTY JAIL.—Jack Powers, who was so dangerously injured on the 4th of July, has so far recovered that he was removed to the county jail a few days ago. He is able to walk a little about the jail corridor, though very weak. His examination will come off as soon as he is able.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL.—This popular hotel is open to the public, and all who patronize the place will be certain to find ample accommodations. A splendid bill of fare appears in another column. You can get a splendid meal there as cheap as any restaurant in the city.

TO TAXPAYERS.—Mr. Sears, the county assessor, wishes again to call the attention of taxpayers to the fact that the "day of grace" is drawing rapidly to a close. Hand in your statements at once. Delay will cause inconvenience to the assessor and trouble to the taxpayer.

THE ROBESON CASE.—The case of State of Oregon vs J. G. Robeson, charged with the murder of J. D. Robb, was called in the state circuit court at Astoria yesterday morning. Defendant entered a plea of not guilty, and the cause was set for trial next Monday at 1 P. M.

ARTICLES FILED.—The Eola Storage and Shipping Co. has filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state. Capital stock $1500. Incorporators, Harrison Brunk, Joshua McDaniel and John Vernon. Business to receive, store and ship grain.

FOR YAQUINA BAY.—The United States steamer Robert T. Lincoln arrived from Portland at Astoria on the 7th, with machinery for Yaquina bay, which was transferred to the steamer Gen. H. G. Wright. The Lincoln will remain at Astoria to survey Young's river.

MAKING ESTIMATES.—The Astorian of yesterday says: Mr. Habersham, who has been over to Ilwaco making estimates for the canal that is to connect the Columbia with Shoalwater bay, will have charge of the Young's river survey.

FOR SOUTHERN OREGON.—Mr. O. H. Bellinger, son of the judge, started on yesterday morning to southern Oregon to join Major Stansberry's company of engineers, who are to locate the railroad from Roseburg to Cloverdale.

RETURNED.—Rev. John Rosenberg returned on the last steamer from a short visit to San Francisco. He reports having experienced a pleasant time and returns to the duties of his charge in greatly improved health and spirits.

DANGEROUSLY ILL.—The Salem Statesman says: Dr. A. M. Belt is lying dangerously ill at his residence in Independence. Dr. Reynolds was telegraphed for and left Monday night to render medical assistance.

QUITE ILL.—Mr. Marion Bills is lying very low at his residence on North Fifth street. In the past few months he tried change of air in different localities, but to no purpose.

PREPARATIONS.—Brick for the [illegible] are on the ground and work will be commenced shortly, and not long thereafter [illegible] street will [illegible]

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will deliver an opinion this morning in this court upon the motion for a new trial in the case of Spragg vs. [illegible]

DEAF MUTE SCHOOL.

SALEM, Oregon, August 4, 1881.

Parents and guardians of deaf-mute children are hereby notified that the session of the Oregon School for Deaf-Mutes, for 1881-2, will commence October 5, 1881. The session is to begin one month later than heretofore, for the reason that a new building is being erected, which it will be impossible to have ready for occupancy before the time named. The new building is to be near by the one now occupied and is to be used as a schoolroom and boy's dormitory. Boys and girls will hereafter be entirely separated, excepting at meal time and in the school room. Other new arrangements will be made of which due notice will be given, and the managers feel sure that the coming session of the school will be so provided for as to insure success.

P. S. KNIGHT, Superintendent.

NOTES FROM CHAMPOEG.

OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.

CHAMPOEG, Aug. 8, 1881.

Farmers are in their harvest, full blast, and the steam threshers can be heard in every corner of the land.

The sawmill at this point is turning out the finest quality of hardwood lumber, but does not saw fir, which makes it bad for the people here.

The flour mill at this place is too far from the river, and there is some talk of a new mill being built on the river bank before winter begins.

The new store is nearly completed and will be occupied by Mr. F. Eberhard, who has been bookkeeper for Zan Bros. of your city for the last two years.

From the beginning this point has always been a good shipping place, and from appearances there will be a large quantity of wheat shipped from here this fall.

VESSELS ENTERED.

Yesterday the following vessels were entered at the custom house:

Br bk Jane Porter, of Belfast, 950 tons, Legg, master, from Port Adelaide with 450 tons sand ballast.

Am ship Palmyra, 1350 tons, Minott master, from New York, with the following cargo consigned to the N. P. R. R. Co.: 6124 bars railroad iron, 1200 car wheels, 600 P iron axles and one lot of spike bars, bolts, nuts and frog plates.

NEW BOOKS

The following new books have just been received and added to the Portland library:

The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government, by Jefferson Davis; two vols.
A Hopeless Case, by Edgar Fawcett.

EDUCATION WITHOUT RELIGION.

[illegible]

Another [illegible] to know why he [illegible] does not appear [illegible] newspaper [illegible] into personal questions [illegible] [illegible] one single inch. The school question is pre-eminently a question of parents: [illegible] fathers and mothers of families [illegible] value [illegible] love more than [illegible] One who has no children [illegible] feel the responsibility of a father. What [illegible] care of other people's children [illegible] faith, have their moral dispositions thwarted and distorted and grow up in scepticism and infidelity? The Catholic clergy who realize the responsibility of spiritual fatherhood, and Catholic parents, who are alive to the moral obligations of natural paternity, are directly and primarily concerned in the all-important matter of the education of the youth; and people without children should be exceedingly careful in legislating about a matter which does not affect them except remotely and indirectly.

As to the views held by the Catholic church about schools divorced from religion, it behooves a Catholic to take up their defense when everybody knows that the illustrious Pope Pius IX reproved and condemned the following propositions: "Catholics may give their approval to that system of education which is divorced from the faith." The condemnation of that proposition makes it a clear point that such a system cannot be approved by us. But what is the use? Some Catholics so-called know much better than the pope.

What is said about the Catholic clergy's dereliction of duty is more bosh, undeserving of an answer; but I beg to subjoin (and I shall then withdraw from the contest) a few non-Catholic quotations in support of my view, which is not opposed to public schools but to the irreligiousness of the same.

"Not a few Protestants also are full of misgivings respecting the unbelief of the schools and they are everywhere quoting the words of Luther: 'Where the sacred scriptures are not held in royal honor, I counsel no man to send his son.' (Speech of Baron Depauli on the 12th day May of the current year in the assembly of deputies in Vienna.) Gladstone said: 'Every system that places religion in the back ground is most ruinous.' Guizot: 'The education of the people ought to be given in an atmosphere of religion.' Victor Cousin: 'The public school is a sanctuary and religion has the same right to claim a place in it, as it has in the church.' Victor Hugo, in the public assembly of 1850: 'Religious instruction, according to my way of thinking, is more necessary now than it ever was. The more men become free the more they stand in need of faith. I want to see the teaching of religion.' None of these men, be it observed, has given his judgment on the school without God simply in his private capacity. They have all spoken in their character as public men and men of the state, and the reason why they have spoken has been because it was their duty to obtain for their governments, not merely a people well instructed, but a people observant of the moral law and believing in God. In an assembly of schoolmasters in Prussia in September, 1879, the Minister Putkamer said: 'Religious instruction ought to be the center of the education of the people. The same day in which we cease to draw upon the inexhaustible fountain of the gospel for our popular instruction, the downfall of our whole national culture will be sealed.' And in December of the same year he added: 'The Christian character of the popular school is the palladium of our intellectual life. The mixed school (that is, the unsectarian one) up to the present time has had no other result than to break up the general peace and good will.'

A year ago the conference of Evangelical Lutherans voted the following resolutions, 'The manner in which the school is now conducted is in direct opposition, (1) to the rights of the family, (2) to the doctrines of the Prussian constitution, as these have been handed down to us, (3) to the nature of youth and the real wants of the people, (4) to the true nature of a popular school as an institution for education.' I borrow all this from Depauli's speech. But there is no need of crossing the Atlantic. In the Protestant Episcopal general convention recently held in New York, the following resolution was agreed to: 'Resolved, That the bishops and clergy be most earnestly requested to bring this subject to the attention of the members of this church, that they remind the people of their duty to support and build up our own schools and colleges, and to make education under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal church superior in all respects to that which is afforded in other institutions.' A resolution similar to the above was passed by the Presbyterians in their general assembly, 'cordially recommending their congregations to establish primary and other schools, on the plan of teaching the truths and duties of our holy religion in connection with the usual branches of secular learning.'

I would trespass upon your condescension, Mr. Editor, if I quoted at length the articles of the Advance, a Congregational journal of Chicago, and of the Methodist of New York, which last named paper begins an article with the following sentence: 'Our object in this article is to say squarely that, in our judgment, the denominational schools of the land, as compared with the purely secular schools, are, on moral grounds, incomparably the safest.' (The School Question by Father Hecker.) It is true that some Catholic parents of this city through want of means, and unable both to pay school taxes for educating other people's children and to pay for the education of their own, find themselves compelled to avail themselves of gratuitous schools. But this is a real evil, a breach of justice, a want of fairness to which we submit; but under which we groan; and we have confidence enough in the good sense of the American nation to hope that a day will come when Catholics will be spared the vexation of having to support with their money irreligious schools to which they cannot conscientiously send their little ones. And as to my Catholic antagonist I exclaim: "The Lord save me from my friends!"

BARGAIN ROOM FOR CLOTHING.

We can lose profits, but we mustn't lose sales. We have divided our clothing into two parts. One part consists of that which must be sold quickly at whatever price it'll bring quickly in August. The other part consists of that which'll go any way. The former is marked down sharply in proportion to the urgency of each case. It consists largely of whole suits for men and boys of all sizes; and partly of odd garments. If we had no other clothing but this which is marked down we should have a large and, we may almost say, a full stock. As good clothing as we have in store is among it.

FROM ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW.

The Roman Catholic Church and the Public Schools.

[illegible] Mass. [illegible] a great deal of [illegible] the [illegible] declarations of the [illegible] of the Roman Catholic church against the public schools [illegible] with the [illegible] in nearly all parts of the country [illegible] members of the church against sending their children to these schools, and even with commands not to do so on pain of the displeasure of the church and withdrawal of its benefactions and ministrations, can not but be marked by the press and people. A like opposition is made by the church in every country which maintains a system of public education, and in some of them the conflict has reached a higher pitch than it has reached here. The question then is of almost world-wide interest. The nations make protest against the assumptions of a controlling influence at Rome under an ecclesiastical system whose methods and objects are at variance with great features of their own polity. This is the struggle in Germany, in France, in Italy. In the United States it would be still more objectionable, because it is still more essentially foreign. We append the Republican's article.

The attitude of the Roman Catholic church toward the people and toward liberty is one of those constant facts of history which it would seem impossible to hold two opinions about, did we not continually see it misstated and any correct reference to it disputed. We have recently had occasion to refer to this church as "essentially foreign to the republic," and to express apprehension at the building up of "un-American and unrepublican communities" in the west under its exclusive auspices and rule. Some of our Roman Catholic readers, as well as the Roman Catholic paper in this city, have taken exceptions which spring plainly from ignorance and misunderstanding. For instance, it is no defense against the proposition that the Roman Catholic church is foreign and unrepublican, to say that Catholics fought for the country in the wars of the Revolution and rebellion. The Catholics are not the Roman Catholic church, nor do they make the church or represent it in any such sense as Presbyterians make and represent the Presbyterian church, or Episcopalians the Protestant Episcopal church—to select two of the most governmental of Protestant bodies. The difference is plain to a child—the Protestant forms and governs his chosen religious organization; ecclesiasticism, with its legend of authority, faints in the advance of individual liberty; the laity mold the very life and substance of the church. The Catholic on the contrary is the mere subject of the priest, under the bishop, the representative of the pope. He has nothing to say about the church; he is only the church's material, for use at need.

Now this perfectly defines the attitude of the Roman church to popular liberty. What the man is in religious affairs, the church would have him in every relation of life—political among the rest. But such a subserviency in matters of public policy is wholly incompatible with free citizenship; hence, the Roman church is unrepublican. This position of the church is grounded in its very existence. It can do no less than claim supreme authority over the state, when it assumes the vicegerency for God in the person of the pope, and it does claim such authority. Not to go back into the centuries when it had full opportunity to show what it was, and improved it, observe that it now, to-day, on every possible occasion, reiterates and emphasizes its assertion of supremacy. Pope Pius IX asserted it with all the damnatory and minatory adjectives at his command—cursing worse than a fish-wife, the irreverent said. Leo XIII, a far more sagacious man, asserts it no less, in the most subtly argumentive language. Cardinal Manning, an unimpeachable spokesman, declares all modern society in rebellion against God—"fallen from the unity of faith, communion and obedience to the divine voice of the church, revolutionary in its political creed and practice; and either in open usurpation, or in culpable connivance at the usurpation, of the sacred rights and sovereignty of the vicar of Christ." That is, for these 300 years, since Protestantism began its work, every year has hastened the growth of liberty, and now everywhere the people are beginning to govern themselves. Just as sure as they get ready to do that, the Roman Catholic church loses a nation, as it is losing France and Germany and Italy to-day.

In America, says that fiery patriot Gavazzi, the pope hopes to regain what he is losing in Europe. He has great advantages in the absolute religious liberty of the United States, and the immense influx of Catholic immigrants, principally from Ireland, and their prolific increase since, giving abundant material for the church and a vastly more influential force than the same numbers would amount to elsewhere, because every one, after an almost nominal time of probation, is a voter, as powerful at the polls as a man who was born here with two centuries of American ancestry. It is true that this force is not wielded now against the republic by the church, for the church is prudent, and conforms where it cannot master. But it is not made American by the church, and never will be; the developments of true American feeling and principle by Roman Catholics, which are occasionally met, are not approved by the church; and that such instances are growing more frequent is one of the weighty reasons for the increasing activity of the church in getting education into its own hands.

The laying of the corner-stone for another Roman Catholic school in this city may well be the occasion for stating the case plainly. The children of Roman Catholic parents are to be educated by the church alone. They are to be removed from the public schools for all classes and races and conditions of people, which are the pride of our American commonwealths, and formed into a special and alien class. No other result can be had from these schools than to develop alienism, and it is a proceeding upon which no lover of the republic can look with complacency. This is what the church means and must mean in consistency with its claim of authority. The state aims to educate citizens, the church to make Catholics. To the Roman view, the secular schools of America are entirely wrong. Says Cardinal Manning: "The social and political evils which are undermining Christian society culminate in one master-evil—state education." The church has never intended to do more, in any place or juncture, than compromise with what it thus condemns as an unmitigated evil until it can remove its children from the state's teaching to its own.

This is the principal large manifestation of the unrepublican purposes of the church in this country, but it has no opportunity to do more at present, and even in this respect it does not dare to enforce its edicts in all their bearings, as the Cambridgeport case of Rev. Mr. Scully showed. Father Scully was simply obedient to the requirements of the church in his treatment of the parishoners who refused to send their children to his parochial school, but for political reasons he was not sustained. The formation of separate Roman Catholic colonies in the West is but another move, adapted to different conditions, in the same direction. As we have said, it is a good thing to have self-supporting communities established, but Americans must open their eyes now to behold, not one, but many influences operating in those great territories to people them with inhabitants, who, whatever their merits, are not American. The government of New Mexico by a Roman Catholic prelate is as foreign as the government of Utah by the Mormon president, and both are affairs which demand the vigilance and authority of the state. For matters nearer home, every man is bound to keep his eyes open to the real bearing of events.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

New York, Aug. 9. The freight market remains unchanged and the movement is very [illegible]. The Imperial is the most advanced vessel at berth and will get away in a couple of days. Rates remain quiet and steady at previous quotations. Tonnage to arrive is offered more freely and at easier terms. The latest charters include the June 21st and Santa Clara, both to arrive, for general cargo from this port to Portland, Oregon; the St. Paul and St. Mark, general cargo to San Francisco, and the Great Admiral, railroad iron from Philadelphia to New Tacoma, W. T. The result of a recent charter of two English steamers to load wheat at San Francisco for Europe is anxiously awaited here by ship owners. The bark Goodell has arrived at Boston and will be ready to take berth around in ten days. The Continental from Baltimore had 2267 tons of coal on private account.

Markets are quiet.

Wheat—Unsettled and dull, export demand has fallen off.

Pork—Neglected.

Lard—Lower but more active.

Rio Coffee—Fairly active and a ¼ higher and firm.

Refined Sugars—Unsettled and prices easier.

Hides—Very firm with a moderate business doing in common.

Turpentine—Moderate demand and very firm.

Petroleum—Dull and lower.

Mustard Seed—Firm demand, with sales of California prime yellow at 3¼, which is a full price.

The English Harvest.

New York, Aug. 9. The Times says: There seems to be little doubt that the English wheat crop is about an average one in point of quantity and rather above the average in respect of quality. It is also reasonably certain that no European country other than England, will need to import wheat after the harvest of 1881 has been gathered in, and it is evident that Russia has an exceptionally abundant crop whose surplus will enable her to bear a more prominent part than usual in the competition for the English market. Russia and the colonies, even with the addition of casual supplies from other parts of Europe, would hardly present the effective competition which in these days is necessary to keep bread cheap in England. Our contribution to the food supply of Great Britain may, so far as cereals are concerned, be smaller than during last harvest year, but it must continue to be hardly second in importance to that of British farmers.

Crops in Kansas.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—The secretary of the Kansas state board of agriculture reports the acreage of winter wheat, 1,874,683, and the product 23,154,399 bushels; acreage of spring wheat, 208,179, a decrease of 20,516 acres compared with last year. Acreage of corn, 4,171,584, against 3,554,396 last year. The quantity of old corn on hand is estimated at 19,589,000 bushels, against 19,111,000 bushels this time last year. Acreage of oats and barley are small than last year.

Chicago Markets.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Bulk meats—Unchanged.

Coffee—Steady: fancy Rio, 15@15½c; choice Rio, 14½@15c; prime Rio, 13½@14c; good Rio, 12¾@13¼c; fair Rio, 11½@12¼c; roasting Rio, 10½@11¼c; old goverment Java, 21½@24c; Singapore Java, 17½@19½c; Mocha, 28@29c; Laguayra, 14@16½; Maracaibo, 13@17c.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.

Receipts—Wheat, 165,300 ctls, including 115,000 aboard ship; flour, 12,300 qr sks; oats, 4500 ctls, potatoes, 1200 sks; eggs, 18,500 doz.

Wheat—Market not so active. Buyers are drawing out of the market, owing to the extreme prices demanded by the holders. Market closed firm yesterday but is easier to-day despite favorable Liverpool advices. Sales of 100 tons choice shipping at $1 50; choice milling offered at $1 52½; choice and extra choice shipping quoted at $1 50@1 52½, the latter for round lots of new.

Flour—Prices are about 12½c higher for all grades. The demand is not stimulated by the advance.

Barley—Market is firm and prices are unchanged.

Oats—Heavy receipts have affected the market; prices fully 5 cents lower, sales of common feed at $1 30; choice and extra choice feed, $1 40@1 55.

Potatoes—Market steadier, early rose, 80@90c.

Onions—There has been an increased inquiry with improved rates; quoted at 80@90c.

Grain Bags—Market easier. Among sales this morning were the following at auction: 10,000 standard Calcuttas, $8 37½; 90,000 do, $8 27½; 16 bales Dundee, $7 50@8.

Butter—The general features of the market are unchanged.

Eggs—No change to note in quotations.

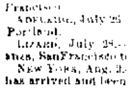
HUB PUNCH,

TO TOP OFF A DINNER,

May be Drank Clear, as a Cordial.



For a dinner thoroughly appointed, the good old way was to wash down the last triumphs of the feast with copious libations of rich, rare and curious old Port and Golden Sherry; but "HUB PUNCH" has added a new sensation to the epicure. Its delicacy, aroma, flavor, and delicious, but gentle effects, proclaim it the nectar fit for the gods banqueting on Olympus.

Mix HUB PUNCH with Ice Water, Cold Tea, Lemonade, or Soda. It is unanimously pronounced unrivalled.

TESTIMONIALS.

"A sip is like nectar."—Boston Courier.

"Delicious beyond description."—Boston Transcript.

"Added to the good things of the table it enlarges the pleasures of life and encourages good fellowship and good nature if rightly enjoyed."—Springfield Republican.

"It is a great trouble to make Punch, and many people lack the savoir faire to brew it. Hub Punch is indispensable wherever known."—Spirit of the Times, N.Y.

"The increasing popularity of Hub Punch is pleasant testimony to your success in using the best and purest components." PARK & TILFORD, New York.

"Our success in selling Hub Punch has surprised us, we having sold within the past three months a larger quantity than we anticipated selling in twelve." SMITH & VANDERBEEK, New York and Chicago.

King of the Blood

Is not a "cure all." It is a blood-purifier and tonic. Impurity of blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders, known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Ulcers, Swellings, &c., &c. King of the Blood prevents and cures them by attacking the cause, Impurity of the Blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists. $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, &c., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle.

THE GENUINE

CELEBRATED

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

FOURTH ANNUAL VICTORY

For D. M. Osborne & Co. Harvesting Machinery at the Oregon State Fair for 1881.

Salem, Or., July 11, 1881.

This certifies that D. M. Osborne & Co. was awarded first premium on their Twine Binding Harvester, No. Six Combined Reaper and Mower, No. Three Independent Reaper, No. Two Front Cut Mower, at the Fair of 1881. [illegible]

L. M. WAITE, Sec'y.

The above speaks for itself. The competition was between the "Osborne" and "Woods" Twine Binders. The McCormick and Marsh [illegible] defeat, and did not enter for premiums, but found time to exhibit on the Fair Grounds, but attract no attention whatever. The Osborne was put to a very severe test, elevating and binding green wheat, successfully repeating the operation until the committee expressed perfect satisfaction. The defeat of the Woods binder was rouge and hard to bear, but the following from Mr. H. A. Davis, of Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, is a much greater victory for the "Osborne."

Harrisburg, Or., July 16, 1881.

Messrs. D. M. Osborne & Co., Portland, Or.—Gentlemen: After two days' hard labor and extreme vexation with a "Woods Twine Binder" (having the assistance of an expert), I have failed to make it go. To-day I concluded to try an Osborne, and am happy to say that from its entrance into the grain up to this writing it has not failed for one moment to do perfect work, cutting, binding and elevating. And before this reaches you my order will be filled with one of your machines, as I consider them the best and only machine on which we farmers can fully depend. My men will all cheerfully sign with me as true friends to the Osborne. H. A. DAVIS.
